RAIN HALTS 3RD GAME IN SERIES AT BEATTYVILLE

Deciding Game Is Rescheduled For Sunday Afternoon

Deciding game of the West Liberty and Irvine two-best-out-of-three series for the Bluegrass League championship was rained out in the first of the fifth inning Sunday afternoon at Beattyville. Thus the decision will have to wait until next Sunday. The deciding game is scheduled to be played on Beattyville's field at 2 p.m. And, incidentally, it will be the last time Big Steve Hamilton will wear the Blue Sox uniform. The call left-handed twirler has received a bid from the Cleveland Indians to go to their spring training camp next season and maybe with a handsome bonus. He has not signed a contract yet, however. A big crowd of Blue Sox boosters is expected to accompany the Morgan team to Beattyville Sunday. Irvine and West Liberty are tied at 1-1 in the playoff series. The Blue Sox took the opener 11 to 1 and lost the second game, at Irvine, 9 to 7. At Beattyville Sunday Irvine was leading 1-0 and had two West Liberty batters out in the first of the fifth when a down-pour stopped the game. Irvine Pitcher Jim Kiser doubled for Irvine in the third and came home on a single by Johnny Risen for the only run of the game. Steve Hamilton had allowed Irvine only five hits and West Liberty had only two off Kiser when the game was called.

ANNETTE HARLOW WINS RURAL KENTUCKY CO-OP BEAUTY CROWN

The tiny community of Temple Hill has done it again! Last year the little town near Glasgow produced "Miss Kentucky Rural Electric Co-Op of 1956," the beautiful and charming Bunny Wells. This year the town scored a repeat, providing "Miss Kentucky Rural Electric Co-Op of 1957," Miss Annette Harlow. Adding to the coincidence are the facts that Bunny and Annette are best friends, were classmates at Temple Hill High until Annette graduated last May, and were cheerleaders together for two years. Both girls won the right to compete in the state contest by winning the title of "Miss Farmers Rural Electric Co-Op" at the Annual Meeting and Electric Farm Show of the Co-op this summer and last. When Bunny won her local title, Annette was runner-up. Annette, who was obviously a favorite of the crowd of 6,000 watching the state finals at the Kentucky State Fair, credited a part of her success over the 26 contestants to Bunny. "Bunny just told me how to walk and things like that," she said. After winning the state title last year, Bunny went on to capture the national title of "Miss Rural Electrification of 1957." One of Annette's prizes is an expense-paid trip to Dallas next February, where she will try to duplicate Bunny's feat. Another prize is a 13-cubic foot General Electric freezer and a silver tea service, compliments of the sponsors of the contest, General Electric Supply Company, Louisville. Runner-up in the contest was Mary Belle Kennedy, 17, of New Haven, who represented the Nolin Rural Electric Co-op of Elizabethtown. She received a $125 wrist watch. Third place went to the entry of the Inter-County Rural Electric Co-op of Danville, 18-year-old Margaret Griffin of Liberty. She received a two-piece luggage set. The new queen of Kentucky's Rural Electric Co-ops, which serve more than 225,000 rural people with electric power, was 18 last week, is 5 feet 7 1/2 inches tall and weighs 123 pounds. Her measurements are 36, 24, 36. Annette is one of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Harlow, who live on a 214-acre farm belonging to her grandfather. Annette, who started working in a Glasgow sporting goods store last week, was crowned by A. P. Adair, a prominent Paris farmer and hog breeder and president of the Kentucky Association of Rural Electric Cooperatives. Subscribe for your home paper.

Bobie Carpenter Recovery Fund Is Started For Man Hurt In Accident

The BOBEY CARPENTER RECOVERY FUND is being started in Morgan County this week to assist in the recovery of Carpenter, who has been a patient in a Cincinnati hospital nearly three and a half months. Carpenter has been unconscious since receiving head and body injuries in an auto wreck near Georgetown, Ohio. He has improved slightly during his 100 days in Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, and arrangements are now being made to bring him to the West Liberty Hospital. His wife, Glois, has been with him since he was injured. Their two children, Ronda Shane, 8 and Donna, 5, are with relatives here. At first the family declined to accept assistance. But Bobey may remain bedfast for many months. He has not yet regained complete consciousness. And he requires hospital care and physical therapy daily to recover. Mrs. Carpenter is now learning the physical therapy procedures, and will assist in his treatment when he is returned to West Liberty. Thus she will not be able to work. Bills must be met. Friends here have started a drive to sign up 200 people willing to give $1 a month for one year to insure that Bobey is given the chance to recover, and to help lighten the load of his wife and children. The committee in charge of the Bobey Carpenter Recovery Fund is composed of James W. Elam, Lynn Nickell and Bernard Montgomery, all of West Liberty. People willing to assist may fill out the following pledge and mail it to The Bobey Carpenter Recovery Fund, General Delivery, West Liberty, Ky. Two hundred signers are needed. This will insure $200 monthly.

"BOBEY CARPENTER RECOVERY FUND"

Name Address Phone I, the undersigned, do hereby pledge $1.00 per month to the "Boby Carpenter Recovery Fund." This is to be paid between the first and tenth of each month. This pledge will be for one year—Oct. 1, 1957 to Oct. 1, 1958. Payable: BOBEY CARPENTER RECOVERY FUND, General Delivery, West Liberty, Ky. (Signed)

Rainfall Totals 5.69 Inches In Eight Days

In the eight-day period a total of 5.69 inches of rain fell in the West Liberty area, Berlyn Brown, local U. S. weather observer, reports. Rain fell each day during the eight-day period but the biggest rainfall was last Friday when a total of 2.09 inches fell in 24 hours. Much appreciation was expressed for Brother Harlan Murphy, the retiring chairman, for his two challenging sermons and his many years of service to the Annual district. He announced with regret his retiring as pastor of the Old Grassy and the White Oak Christian churches, and claimed the right to return at will to visit and preach occasionally. He is counseling minister for the churches of the district. Danny Joe Howard was unanimously elected chairman and presided over the sessions of the three-day meeting. He brought a most challenging message on Saturday evening. He has been called as pastor of the White Oak church. PROFESSOR SHOWS HOMEMAKERS HOW TO LANDSCAPE A NEW FARM HOME

The Homemakers certainly learned many interesting ideas at their annual meeting last Friday.

At 9:00 a.m. a group gathered at the farm home of Mrs. Lillian Oldfield. Professor N. R. Elliott showed the women how to landscape a farm home. Taking the group across the road, he asked each woman to critically analyze the home. Taking the front door as the main center of interest, he placed all the plants and trees with this in mind. The hillsides and valley in front of the house and back were also analyzed.

The women asked questions about many plants which Professor Elliott discussed. The group was amazed how simple the plan he made for the Oldfields. He only planned for a few plants for their beautiful farm home. He pointed out that people many times buy too many.

Mrs. Oldfield served refreshments to the group. The attendance was low due to rain.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by Bessie Halsey, county president; Mrs. Fannie Gevedon brought the devotional. Reports were given of some of the accomplishments during the year. New officers for the next two years were installed as follows—Hannah Maxey, president; Anna Clay Preston, vice president.

Wonna Barker, secretary. Hortense Benton, treasurer. Ella Mae Phipps, citizenship. Eva May, publicity. Eva Arnett, reading.

Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair, Home Agent, installed the officers. Special music was given by the Homemakers Chorus led by Mrs. Mary Katherine Motley and accompanied by Mrs. Lynn Nickell.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that thousands of people see the outside of our homes that never stop inside. He discouraged the use of pot plants, buckets and colored containers on our front porches.

Professor Elliott said a town or county is known by its progressiveness and by public buildings, schools and cemeteries and how they are kept.

Refreshments were served.

WAS RADIO AT HAPPY'S SPEECH SABOTAGED? WHY

(Rowan County News)

What happened in the Morehead Fieldhouse Monday when the state-wide radio network that was to carry the major policy address of Gov. A. B. Chandler was cut off?

Newspaper Publisher W. E. Crutcher, who introduced the Chief Executive, claimed "we were sabotaged."

Lawrence McGill, Maysville announcer, who was to fill in the background and color, said: "It looks sort of peculiar."

William Whitaker, manager of radio station WMOR, Morehead, the originating station declared: "I just don't know, but there were a lot of coincidences that makes one stop and think."

Bill Betts, who was in charge of the network, first said: "No comment," and then added, "We took so many precautions I am surprised."

This is what happened—Checks were made starting at 9 o'clock Monday morning. They showed the lines were open and ready.

Then, at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, or an hour before the speech, the "all clear" came perfectly each five minutes.

As the time approached for the program to start, the radio people checked each minute . . . and then every five seconds.

Everything was in order. At 1:58, or two minutes before the program was to go on the 23 station network, something happened.

The frantic radio engineers started plugging into other outlets. (The Morehead Fieldhouse is equipped with 12, or more, to permit a quick switch-over).

But, all lines were dead. It was thought, at first, that the fault was at the offices of General Telephone Company. But the trouble could not be found there.

Meanwhile Morehead College President Adron Doran opened the program and the Governor was introduced.

Telephone people finally located the trouble—about 53 minutes after the circuits went dead. The last 7½ minutes of Chandler's speech went on the air over some stations.

A key wire had been pulled from the terminal in a metal box at the Fieldhouse. Repairmen had to remove several screws to get to the trouble.

Whitaker and Betts said they saw four people "loafing around" the terminal box.

"Too many coincidences," said Crutcher.

The arrangements committee later let it be known that some "special precautions" had been taken Monday at the Fieldhouse.

"We received notice three times Sunday of threats against the Governor," Crutcher said.

"You are sort of used to hearing things like this because Happy Chandler is a controversial figure, loved by his friends and hated by his enemies."

"But, one telephone call of warning came from a right prominent and level-headed person," Crutcher continued.

"We then went to Captain Vernon Saunders, head of the District State Police barracks at Morehead. He said he had also heard about the threats . . . that some people were coming to Morehead prepared to raise hell."

Saunders stationed more than a half-dozen plain-clothes State Policemen in the Fieldhouse, some near the speaking platform. He said he didn't put uniformed men inside because "Happy never liked anything like that."

"We did have uniformed men on the outside, ready to move on word over a walkie-talkie inside the building," Saunders said.

But, there were no untoward incidents inside the Fieldhouse.

Chatter away like magpies Till evening comes wreathed in grey.

One path led to a little old church With rickety, sagging stairs. That led up and up to the belfry Through which drifted the sinners prayers.

Solitary and weird and lonely that church Amid graves too countless to count.

Stood lonely and rent, grayish and spent On a sun-washed, moss-covered mound.

Over the hill stands a new white church Gleaming like snow in the sun. In the storms of the years Can it still burr fears

Like our little old gray church has done? —By Letha Gibson Wharncliffe, W. Va.

Motorists Should Be Alert For Youngsters

"With school in session again, we can expect more children to be using the streets and highways than during the summer months," Commissioner of Public Safety Don Sturgill warns.

"Motorists should be especially alert for youngsters during the early morning hours when many persons are on their way to work at the same time children are going to school."

He reminded highway motorists that Kentucky law requires motorists to stop for school buses when they are loading or unloading children.

In addition, Sturgill had these safety tips for motorists: Always expect the unexpected from children.

Keep a sharp lookout at all times, but especially in school zones, near playgrounds and other places where children gather. Always reduce your speed in the school zones.

Don't try to compete with bike riders.

Do all you can to avoid an accident.

Flower Show At Fair Is Open To Everyone

Anyone in the county may enter flowers in the flower show at the County Fair, announces the two chairmen in charge, Mrs. Boyd Blair and Mrs. A. P. Gullett.

There are 15 different classes in the flower show with a total of $29 in prize money being offered.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Gullett give the following hints that will be of assistance to those who wish to enter flowers: the container in which flowers are arranged will be included in the judging as to appropriateness; it is not the amount of flowers that will count in the judging but the manner in which they are arranged; potted plants will be judged on size, uniformity, health and beauty of plant.

Prizes are being offered by the Fair for cut flower arrangements of roses, zinnias, marigolds and dahlias. The Fair is offering prizes for the following potted plants: begonias, geraniums, ferns, African violets—wild flower arrangement.

The West Liberty Garden Club is offering prizes for mixed arrangement, small marigolds, a child's arrangement, driftwood, and unusual arrangement.

- Seed is guaranteed. (A guarantee with a meaning.)
- Seed of new, improved varieties available.

Why Gamble?

A very poor harvest season such as we had this year is harmful to the production of good quality small grain seed. Southern States supply is good, but with heavier than usual demand the supply could become short.

No Sympathy For The Fly
Maybe I'm hard hearted, but I just don't have any sympathy for our unwelcome guests "the house fly" as our Florence correspondent explained in last issue. Maybe it's because I brush them up on a dust pan and have their little germ spreading bodies crumpled before the doctor and nurse flies arrive to aid the dying and wounded.

Urge Increase In All Burley Price Supports

LEXINGTON, Sept. 13.—Burley price support increases spread equally over all grades are favored by Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Assn. directors.

They voted yesterday for the co-op to take that stand when marketing associations meet government officials to establish support levels for each grade before the market opens.

The government has said burley supports will average at least $51.50 a hundred pounds. They averaged $48.20 last season.

The directors consensus was that the 1957 crop would be about 10 per cent below average production. Prediction ranged from a crop one-third below normal in southern Ohio to normal crops in Fayette, Henry and Shelby Counties in Kentucky.

Map Shows Geology, Coal Supply Found In Campton Quadrangle

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A new map showing the geology and coal resources of the Campton quadrangle, which covers about 59 square miles along the western escarpment of the Cumberland Plateau in Wolfe, Lee and Breathitt counties, Kentucky, has been published by the Geological Survey, Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton announces.

This quadrangle was mapped as a part of the program of investigation of the mineral fuels resources of Eastern Kentucky being conducted by the Geological Survey with the cooperation of the University of Kentucky and the Kentucky Geological survey.

The rocks exposed are about 675 feet thick and include the upper part of the Lee formation and the lower part of the Breathitt formation, both of Pennsylvanian age. The Lee formation is composed chiefly of quartz-rich sandstone and contains at least one coal horizon. The Breathitt formation consists primarily of siltstone and claystone and contains several coal beds, including the two that have been mined extensively—the Zachariah coal bed

Weed-Free Tobacco Beds

Here's how to do it. Sprinkle VAPAM® on your seed beds now. In the next 30 days it kills all those weeds and grasses, germinating weed seeds, soil fungi and those invisible nematodes. Come seedling time you have the healthiest soil in the state! You get more seedlings per square yard—up to twice as many. And only a few—if any!—weeds. Your seedlings are really strong and vigorous. You can transplant fast for the best crop you've ever seen.

Result is hundreds of dollars saved in back-breaking work and weeding costs. Yet VAPAM costs only a penny per square foot. Make more profit next year! Don't share your crop with weeds and soil borne diseases. Put VAPAM on your seed beds now. No special equipment needed. It's so easy and safe to sprinkle on. You get stronger seedlings, weed control and more profit. Do it now for best results. Approved by the Department of Agriculture for all food and fibre crops.
